-For Immediate Release-

Two Wentworth Chambers is pleased to announce the appointment of Briget Harrison as its new Clerk, effective as at 7 February 2022.

Briget has returned to Australia after spending 20 years in the UK legal sector. Having honed her skills principally supporting legal practices in the intellectual property field, Briget has undertaken a number of senior legal management roles throughout her career.

Having worked at both Chambers' Director and Business Development Director level, members of Two Wentworth are confident Briget has the experience and vision to develop the floor's barrister and mediator practitioners to their full potential.

Briget was the first Australian appointed Chambers' Director operating in the prestigious Lincoln's Inn in New Square, London between 2012-2017 working with specialist intellectual property set, Hogarth Chambers, the set also renowned for its involvement in the celebrity phone hacking litigation.

Briget said:-

"I feel very privileged to have been given the opportunity to take over as the lead clerking support at Two Wentworth Chambers. I am planning to bring a bit of European thinking and innovation to the floor. The Chambers has always had a reputation for common law but is now also recognised as a serious succession and equity force. I am very excited about working with Mr Gambi and the floor in achieving its ambitious future plans."

Head of Chambers, Reno Gambi said:-

“After the floor’s last Clerk left in 2021 to pursue a different career path, we thought long and hard about what direction we wanted to take going forward. Apart from needing motivation and drive, and undertaking general clerking duties, we decided we also wanted a Clerk with business development skills and an ability to think outside the square. Briget ticked all the boxes, and the floor is very excited she has returned to Australia to help guide us on our new journey.”

About Two Wentworth Chambers

Two Wentworth Chambers is a premier set of barristers' chambers in Sydney. The floor comprises twenty barristers, including two senior counsel. Our barristers are highly experienced in providing expert legal services in all Australian court jurisdictions and tribunals, across a diverse range of practice areas including administrative law, commercial litigation, common law, equity and trusts, family and succession, insurance, local government and taxation. Many of our barristers are experienced alternative dispute resolution practitioners, including accredited mediators, arbitrators and expert determiners. Our barristers have represented clients in landmark decisions, and current and former members of Two Wentworth Chambers have taken judicial appointments in the Federal Court of Australia, Supreme and District Courts of New South Wales.
